In consonance with the true spirit as envisaged and enacted in the "The Right to Information Act-2005" National Test House- a premier scientific institution- under direct administrative control of Dept. of Consumer Affairs, Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food & Public Distribution, Govt. Of India, solemnly affirms the relevant information as stipulated in the said act under chapter II clause 4(b) (from serial nos. (i) to (xvii)) published in the Gazette of India (Extraordinary) Part II, Sec. I no. 25 dated June 21, 2005. The information furnished as below serial wise is offered to all citizens of India about the dedicated service being rendered by this institution for the people of India for over nine decades.

i) The particular of the organisation, function, and duties.

A glimpse of the organisaton: National Test House (formerly Govt. Test House) was established way back in the year 1912 within the railway precincts of Alipore, Calcutta (now Kolkata) on a modest scale under Railway Board. Initially, the services of National Test House were exclusively utilized by the Indian Railway for testing and quality evaluation of stores meant for running railway network. As soon as the immense potential of National Test House in the field of testing and quality assurance of engineering stores was being explored, it was inducted in the Indian Stores Department for testing and quality assurance of material stores supposed to be used by various Govt. Departments. Gradually to meet the increasing demand from the general people, the door of National Test House has been thrown open to all category irrespective of Govt. Department, Private enterprises, law enforcing agencies, various court of laws and individuals. During the post-independent period and in the wake of massive industrialization in the country, the functions and activities of National Test House have increased manifold. Recognising its immense potential in the field of testing, quality evaluation and calibration of material science, Govt. of India has enlisted National Test House in the exclusive category of major scientific institutions of the country in the year 1984. To cope up with the crying need of testing, evaluation of various engineering products and calibration of equipment as well, National Test House has started spreading its wings across the country and at present it is catering to the need for the country through the following branches under the direct supervision of the office of the Director General situated at Salt Lake, Kolkata

(1) National Test House(ER), Kolkata presently functioning from two complexes situated at Alipore, Kolkata and other from its newly built complex situated at Salt Lake, Kolkata along with the office of the Director General.

(2) National Test House(WR), Mumbai was established in the year 1964 in a rented accommodation at Siwri, Central Bombay and subsequently shifted to its own building at Andheri(E), North-West Mumbai within the territory of Marol Industrial Complex of MIDC. Since then, it is discharging its functions from its own building at Andheri (E), Mumbai.

(3) National Test House(SR), Chennai was established in the year 1975 and presently functioning from its own building situated at Tharamani, Chennai near Guindy.

(4) National Test House(NR), Ghaziabad was established in the year 1977, presently discharging its activities from its own building situated at Kamla Nehru Nagar, Ghaziabad.

(5) To assist the blooming industries come up in and around north-west zone of the country, National Test House(NWR), Jaipur was established in the year 1994 and presently functioning from its own newly built complex in the VKIA situated at Jaipur.

(6) There is a persistent endeavour to promote industrialization in the north-east provinces of the country. In accordance with the policy of Govt. of India and to prop up the desired support required for proliferation of industries in that region, National Test House(NER), Guwahati was established in the year 1996 at Kalapahar, Guwahati and since then efficiently discharging its functions in the field of testing and evaluation of material stores.

A chronological detail of the profile of National Test House and its six regional branches in an elaborate way is available in the 'Technical Manual' of NTH hosted in the web site address- <http://nth.gov.in> Functions and duties : The prime function of National Test House veers round the testing, evaluation, quality assurance of all sorts of material stores of all engineering products (except drugs, arms and ammunition) received from assorted customers comprising Govt. Departments (viz. Railways, CPWD, Director of Quality Assurance under DGS&D, Power, Ground Water, Pollution etc.), Govt. Undertakings like SAIL, State Bank of India, Engineers India Ltd., Coal India etc., private industrial houses of repute like Larsen & Toubro, ITC, Asian Paints etc., medium and small scale manufacturers and private individuals as well from the country itself and also from the neighbouring SAARC countries particularly from Bangladesh, Nepal and Bhutan. The exporters from this country utilize the consummate services of National Test House for the quality assurance of their products due to be exported. Similarly, importers also seek the evaluation services of National Test House for assessing the quality of their products imported from different countries. Therefore, the functions of National Test House being under Department of Consumer Affairs can be epitomized so as to protect consumer interest as a whole in the field of testing and evaluation of material stores.

Apart from this, in the wake of globalisation the demand for calibration of equipment used for manufacturing, commercial using, testing and quality assurance has been increased by manifold. To meet the increasing demand for calibration of equipment, National Test House has also been discharging its duties in the field of calibration and measurement technology for both Mechanical and Electrical Discipline.

The functions, duties and facilities available for testing, quality evaluation and calibration of National Test House with six regional branches are available in the 'Technical Manual' incorporated in this web site. All the laboratories viz. Chemical, Mechanical, Electrical, Non-Destructive Testing, Civil and Rubber-Plastic-Textile of NTH(WR), Mumbai and NTH(SR), Chennai have already been accredited by NABL(National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories) for the testing zone, Mechanical Calibration Laboratory of NTH(ER), Salt Lake has similarly been accredited in the field of calibration area. In all the remaining laboratories situated in the other regions, the process of acquiring accreditation is almost on the verge of completion for both testing and calibration area.

In addition to the functions discharged by National Test House as above, it also takes a critical role in disposing of sensitive and confidential samples received from law enforcing agencies, viz. CBI, Vigilance department of both Central and State Governments, Govt. Undertakings, Police, Customs and Excise for testing and quality evaluation of disputed and counterfeit samples. In this matter various courts of law around the country unequivocally accepts the test certificates issued by National Test House and draws the final conclusion. A separate section earmarked as Confidential Section deals with such samples.
